

ADVICE OR NOTICE.

You see that some of our friends advertise with us, and we ask you to patronize them, and thus help those who help us. We as a race must come closer together. We must see eye to eye. Help each other in business; others will help us in proportion as we help ourselves. The race needs leaders who will champion its cause, and they must be men of our race whose mouths, ears and eyes are open to the interest of the Nation, and our race especially.

This little pamphlet is sold at 5c. per copy, and the proceeds, after paying for printing, will go into our treasury for the next celebration.

Ycurs for God and the race,

R. H. W. LEAK.

We hope that the officers of the celebration in the different towns and cities will call a meeting some time in November and send us the names of all officers, readers, speakers, etc. We give below the officers and speakers reported to us from the first day of January celebration, 1894, viz:

REIDSVILLE.

P. H. Carter, President; H. T. Epperson, Vice-President; J. C. Kennedy, Secretary; A. M. Strong, Treasurer; Rev. C. C. Somerville, Master of Ceremonies; J. G. Martin, Chaplin; Rev. J. A. Brocket, D. D., of Southern Pines, Orator.

WINSTON.

J. M. Welch, President; J. C. Banks, Secretary; Rev. Withrow, of Reidsville, Orator.

CHARLOTTE

Held an informal meeting; Dr. J. C. Williams, M. D., delivered the oration.
